MUSIC NOTES – Daniel-Lesur (1908-2002) was a composer, teacher, and organist who spent his creative life in Paris. His In paradisum is a quiet, contemplative piece which is based on the funeral hymn May the angels lead you into Paradise. The hymn tune, which is Gregorian chant, pervades the beginning and end of the piece and is played on a quiet solo sound. The middle section is a short elegy

Lectors:

11/1 – 7:30 – J. Andrzejewski

9:00 – E. Hughes & J. Snyder

11:00 – L. Mc Conlogue

11/8 – 7:30 – K. Michalina

9:00 – P. Kowalski & L. Pfohl

which leads to a reprise of the Gregorian chant: the piece ends with very soft, ascending chords depicting the soul's entry to heaven. C. S. Lang's (1891-1971) Tuba Tune is a jovial piece for a powerful trumpet-like solo stop often named 'Tuba' on British organs. The piece mimics the style of the many English trumpet voluntaries of the eighteenth century.

FROM THE PARISH COMMITTEE - A parish meeting will be held Sunday, November 22nd after the 9 o'clock Mass. Over the past several years, our parish has experienced a difficult loss of parishioners and monies. The parish committee has discussed this situation in depth and reviewed the parish surveys submitted earlier this year to determine the issues facing our parish and corrective actions that might help. The decrease in parish members is our number one problem, followed by the age of our membership. In the past, the answer to balancing our financial records has been to increase dues, but this can no longer happen with the state of our economy, the number of members on a fixed income, and the difficulties our youth have in finding employment once graduating school. The parish committee will present a new direction on membership to our parish with a more acceptable means of contributing money for all individuals that will help continue the work of our parish including our two main ministries, clerical and musical, and the maintenance of our facilities for continued fellowship and worship. Please make time on your calendar to attend this very important meeting – whether you are current in your dues or not. We are all members of St. Stanislaus and want to hear from everyone as we look to move forward.
