In such circumstances, which occur periodically, the celebration of the first Lenten Sunday takes precedence over the Solemnity normally assigned on that day.

Scranton Seniorate Lenten Retreat, 2025 – The program, Meal in the Upper Room, will be the main feature of this year's retreat and will take place from 10:00 am to noon on Saturday, March 29th. The St Stanislaus Cathedral will serve as the venue for this year's program which will begin in its lower chapel and continue in its Youth Center.

A limited number of seats is available so reservations are essential and must be made through the Cathedral Parish office at 570.961.923 no later than March 21st.

The Meal in the Upper Room is a program of penitential preparations, melody and meditation offered within a meal setting that many in years past have found meaningful and uplifting. Include this event among your observances of Lent. A freewill offering will be taken and used towards the Meal expenses.

The Four Traditional Lenten Disciplines: Praying, Almsgiving, Fasting, Scripture Reading

PRAYING is the first of the Lenten disciplines:

- praying daily at home;
- praying every Sunday in Church at Mass;
- praying every week at Lenten devotions on Wednesdays and/or Fridays

in the Cathedral on Wednesdays, 7:00 pm in the lower chapel on Fridays at 12:00 noon;

- coming to church 15 minutes before every Sunday Mass to read and meditate on the scripture readings provided in the order of service for the Mass;
- coming to church 15 minutes before every Sunday Mass, to read and meditate on the hymn texts selected for the Mass since hymns are poetic prayers, reflections and also tiny yet pithy sermons which can provide you with guidance and comfort.

ALMSGIVING - monetary offerings, grants, gifts, bequests and donations:

- providing increased offerings to the Church at its various levels parochial, diocesan and national;
- contributing more broadly to various parish projects, needs;
- arranging the inclusion of a generous bequest to the Church from your estate after your death;
- responding to requests you receive in the mail for worthy charities;

FASTING is a long-hallowed Lenten discipline:

- adjusting your dietary routines by not eating any meat each Wednesday and Friday without substituting lobster and scallops for the meat you're not eating;
- giving up one or more things through the whole season that you like to eat/drink or something you enjoy doing;
- fasting from wrongdoing, that is, doing good to others, doing acts of love towards others, doing random acts of kindness towards others.

READING SCRIPTURE:

- Bible reading each day through Lent on the theme of living out the Season of Lent as Resurrection People as given below.
- All these disciplines require a sacrifice the sacrifice of your time for prayer, Lenten devotions, scripture reading, fasting and almsgiving.

These four activities comprise the Lenten mortification you hear about each year. But it's less about the mortification of the flesh than about something much worse, and for many of us, far more painful; the Lenten mortification outlined for you above is truly about the mortification of your personal schedules – which would need to be adjusted within the seven-week period in order to accommodate your participation in the various Lenten disciplines, as you prioritize those activities over other activities in your schedules.

Let's live Lent as People of the Resurrection.....
